Style Is the Theme of This Ad

Spring Suits Are Superb

Springtime always brings forth clever styles. Seems there is something about the word Spring that inspires to new thought among those of creative instinct. So it is not uncommon for a new vogue to have its inception in the Spring styles. Many of the best of winter styles in the days agone have had their inception in the styles of the Spring before. But, never, or at least not for many years have the Spring suit styles been so prophetic of a new fashion thought and never have Spring suit styles been so nearly faultless.

The tendency seems to be toward a type that permits of many variations, Flare or Eton effects, straight tailored lines and any one of the several variations all seem to lead to one point-that of adaptability to the personal preferences of the wearer. For that reason there is no distinct style and for the same reason the work of the designers is not restrained and full expression to the artistic sense is evident.

Some superb creations are being shown in men's wear serges, poirets and tricotines, navy blue leading in the list of permissible colors.
